

Drug Store Cowboy

(Keith Abler – Mike Dellger)

All the guys who hang around me
They'll tell you who is boss
I ain't the kind who takes no shit or I'll Give their heads a toss

If they ever want to find me
They know right where to look
At the drug store soda fountain
With my head in a comic book

Everybody calls me "Elvis"
Cause they know I'm hip
Tattoos cover most of my body
Pierced stud through my lip

And I know I ain't no dummy
It ain't no accident
In fifteen short years from now
I can run for President

Better watch out for the drug store cowboy
I dress like a punk cuz that's just what I am
I'm a pool hall angel
And I'm wild tonight ... tonight that's right

After I'm elected President
I'll have power galore
Rap and skateboards in the malls
"To hell with church" no more

No more taxes ..no more work
I'll set the story straight
I'll only work for "you the people"
As long as you ain't in my face

Better watch out for the drug store cowboy
I dress like a punk cuz that's just what I am
I'm a pool hall angel
And I'm high tonight ... tonight that's right
