

Family Plan

(Keith Abler)

All of your childhood games and your short-lived fames
can it be your experience that makes me gain?
But now it's gone too far, you traded me in for daddy's car dissatisfaction with the family plan.

Who is paying for the mistakes of the past or is it just better breeding that saves your ass?
You heard that cliché before the rich get richer and the poor stay poor not if I can help it, and I know that I can,
Mr. family plan.

I don't know where you been told you're such a fearless hustler
you set me back, pushed me off of the track to a road I've already covered.

I hope you don't take this thing too personally
I'm only trying to look at this game realistically.
Hope you can come to see the magic is the music, but the music's not free
no hard feelings Mr. family plan.
